15. Declarations of Interest

There were none.

16. Minutes

The minutes of the previous meeting held on 18 July were agreed as a true and accurate record of the meeting.

17. Chair's Announcements

The Chair welcomed everyone to the meeting and thanked the Leader of the Council for attending the Coordinating Overview and Scrutiny meeting.

18. Leader of the Council

At the Chair's invitation, the Leader thanked members for the invite and expressed that he welcomed the scrutiny review and suggestion to work collaboratively together. He felt that the work that scrutiny did was invaluable and cabinet members should be invited to attend scrutiny meetings to further member involvement in shaping policy.

The Chair echoed the need for collaborative working and for cabinet to attend meetings and explained that the Deputy Leader was invited to the meeting on the homelessness strategy. The Chair asked the leader what the Council's approach to homelessness would be this winter, whether there was a sub-zero policy or an all-in policy. The Leader responded that a new policy would be a great idea for members to influence as they dealt with casework first hand in their compassionate role as councillors. He explained that the Hope centre in Northampton were working to support the homeless, and that a brief on winter arrangements would be put together and shared with the Chair.

The Chair shared that the People Overview and Scrutiny committee wanted a single meeting focused on SEND, but the director wanted a task and finish group which the Chair felt would be an encumbrance on the busy service area. The Leader explained it was scrutiny's role to review areas with service delivery issues, but there were plans for SEND extensions in 4 schools which would help ease the problem but there was still work to be done. The Chair stated that SEND would be discussed at the next meeting of the People Overview and Scrutiny committee meeting.

Members discussed the issue with houses in multiple occupancy (HMO) and licensing matters. The Leader explained that there was a Planning Policy HMO working group and previously Northampton Borough Council had come up with a 50m radius policy working with the University of Loughborough to ensure there were no HMOs established within 50m radius of another HMO.

Members discussed the notion of collaborative working and the need for strategic and high level thinking at overview and scrutiny committees. Members felt that scrutiny needed to be forward thinking and asked the leader where the council would be in the next 3/5 years. Members felt that work needed to be done as the four sovereign councils were still working as separate entities. The Leader referred to the corporate plan and the need for cost-saving efficiencies to continue for the unitary council which finance was looking into with suggestions from service areas and the need to evaluate the office space that WNC occupies and the worker types within the Council. The Leader explained there was a report on transformation coming to Cabinet that had more information on progress.

The Chair thanked the Leader for attending and engaging with members. The Leader left the meeting at this juncture.

19. Overview and Scrutiny Committee Work Programmes

The Chair of People Overview and Scrutiny committee summarised their work programme and shared that the Assistant Director Housing was reviewing the governance arrangements with Northampton Partnership Homes and scrutiny wanted to feed into the review. There was also a letter from government on mould in properties and members needed to grasp the recommendations detailed in the letter. The committee also wanted the Deputy Leader to attend and explain what work was being done with housing.

The Chair of Place Overview and Scrutiny committee explained that a briefing on libraries was to be scheduled as well as work on leisure centres and sports activities which could be a joint exercise with People Overview and Scrutiny committee. The Deputy Democratic Services Manager explained that joint working could take place between the two committees who would decide which aspects to investigate to share the work.

Finally, the Chair of Corporate Overview and Scrutiny committee emphasised that the biggest agenda item the committee was facing was the annual budget which would be influenced by the government settlement and autumn statement.

20. Urgent Business

There were no items of urgent business.

The meeting closed at 19:15

DRAFT Overview and Scrutiny Review Framework

1. Introduction

1.1 Overview and scrutiny has been a fundamental component of local authority governance since executive arrangements were introduced via the Local Government Act 2000. Overview and scrutiny helps ensure members of an authority who are not part of the Cabinet may hold the cabinet to account for the decisions and actions that affect their communities.

1.2 Overview and scrutiny committees have statutory powers to scrutinise decisions the cabinet plans to take, those it plans to implement and those that have already been implemented. Recommendations by overview and scrutiny committees enable improvements to be made to policies and how they are implemented. Overview and scrutiny committees can also play a valuable role in developing policy. Effective overview and scrutiny should:

- Provide constructive ‘critical friend’ challenge;
- Amplify the voices and concerns of the public;
- Be led by independent people who take responsibility for their role; and
- Drive improvement in services.

1.3 Our mission statement is:

Effective scrutiny supports the work of the Council in achieving its objectives and priorities through constructive challenge and the promotion of best practice. It makes a positive contribution to the lives of citizens in West Northamptonshire.

1.4 Work carried out through scrutiny reviews should therefore be constructive and focussed on the priorities of the council and local people.

2. How Overview and Scrutiny is Organised at West Northamptonshire Council

2.1 West Northamptonshire Council has established a number of overview and scrutiny committees. Each committee has responsibility for a particular aspect of the Council’s services and/or governance. There are three components to how scrutiny is organised:

2.2 Overview and Scrutiny Committee meetings

2.3 Each of the Council’s overview and scrutiny committees maintains a strategic oversight of the services within its remit. They do this by setting an annual work programme and establishing task and finish groups to undertake scrutiny reviews.

2.4 Overview and scrutiny committee meetings should have a clearly laid out agenda, ideally featuring no more than two substantive items. The focus of committee meetings should be on challenge and improvement with a view to agreeing clear and implementable recommendations. Information gathering or updates from services should be avoided.

2.5 Formal committee meetings are an ideal opportunity to hear from members of the cabinet and senior officers and to ask questions that are relevant to each committee’s objectives.

2.6 Scrutiny Committee Pre-meetings

- 2.7 Pre-meetings are used to ensure each overview and scrutiny committee can get the most out of the subsequent committee meeting. They are intended to improve the impact of each committee by allowing the space to create a shared understanding and discussing beforehand what recommendations the committee might make on the day, and how the Cabinet might respond. All members of the committee should be invited.
- 2.8 Pre-meetings allow members to articulate their objectives for committee meetings and allow motivations to be understood and questioning strategies to be agreed. While differences may remain, the airing of these differences will make it easier for members to understand where consensus is possible.
- 2.9 Ultimately, the purpose of pre-meetings is to ensure that time spent at the subsequent committee meeting is used productively. They are to be used for identifying priorities and developing lines of enquiry so that productive recommendations are more likely.

2.10 Scrutiny Triangulation Meetings

- 2.11 Scrutiny Triangulation Meetings are regular meetings that are designed to facilitate regular communication and information sharing so that Scrutiny can be a resource that can inform Cabinet decision making. The meetings include scrutiny chairs, Cabinet Members and relevant Directors and are intended to allow consideration of future issues and the role that Scrutiny could play in testing and shaping these long-term plans.
- 2.12 The meetings should provide a forum for scrutiny leaders and Cabinet Members to discuss upcoming matters that will benefit from scrutiny input. Such matters can include policy development and major procurements to name but two. The timescales are not limited to those covered by the Council's Forward Plan; these meetings should look further ahead in order to take a strategic view. The meetings are also intended to present an opportunity to share and discuss ways in which scrutiny can be used as an improvement asset. The meetings are not intended to set work programmes for committees, which remain the responsibility of each committee.

3. Work programme

- 3.1 It is vital that each committee sets a work programme in order that it can prioritise its work and ensure there is a clear emphasis on key issues. Work programmes must be focussed as there is strong evidence that when scrutiny focuses on fewer things of greater importance, more is achieved.
- 3.2 Work planning ensures scrutiny stays focussed on strategic issues where it can make an impact, whilst making the best use of time and resources. Work planning is not a one-off activity. Although a workshop at the beginning of the year may be helpful in identifying priorities and providing structure, each work programme will need to retain flexibility, which means each committee should set aside time to review its work programme to ensure it remains relevant.

- 3.3 The triangulation meetings play an important part in the development of work programmes, but individual committee members are also be empowered to suggest topics. A pro forma is included at Appendix A. This is intended to provide a helpful framework for suggesting topics, as well as a means by which committees may ensure suggestions are aligned with the strategic aims of the committee and will add value/are of relevance to communities in West Northamptonshire.
- 3.4 In agreeing items for their work programmes, Overview and Scrutiny Committees should take account of suggestions from members, as well as partners and the public but must also be directed by the Council's corporate plan, plans for policy development and risks and challenges identified through corporate performance reporting. Work planning should be a committee-based activity but must also be forward-looking and strategic in nature.

4. Scrutiny Reviews

- 4.1 This document is designed to guide those involved in overview and scrutiny through the procedure for conducting a scrutiny review from beginning to end. It is intended as a framework which will help to ensure that scrutiny reviews are effective and deliver their stated objectives.
- 4.2 The criteria set out below can be used as a guide for selecting and prioritising topics that are suitable for scrutiny reviews.
- 4.3 Good scrutiny reviews:
- Are about topics that are important to local people;
 - Have an impact and add value;
 - Are about issues that a scrutiny review can influence;
 - Have a clear focus and clearly defined aims and objectives;
 - Do not duplicate work being carried out elsewhere;
 - Have a clear picture of the resources required to undertake a review; and
 - Use resources proportionally to the topic
- 4.4 Topics may not be suitable for a scrutiny review when:
- The issue is already being addressed, or would be better addressed elsewhere;
 - A review would have limited impact, or the topic is too broad to make a review realistic; or
 - The topic is not a priority for local people.
 - The resource required is disproportionate to the likely benefit to local people
- 4.5 Overview and scrutiny committees are ultimately responsible for selecting topics for inclusion in their work programmes.

5. Proposal

- 5.1 Every proposal to undertake a scrutiny review should use the Scrutiny Review Proposal form set out at Appendix A. The Scrutiny Review Proposal should be completed by the member (or officer) proposing a review and shall be considered by the relevant scrutiny committee. Where a committee proposes a review, a lead member should be identified to complete the proposal form. Members may wish to seek input from a Director or Assistant Director prior to submitting the proposal form for consideration.
- 5.2 Each Scrutiny Review Proposal shall also be reviewed by the Monitoring Officer to ensure the review is a matter for which the scrutiny committee has a remit and does not cut across the work of any other committee. A Proposal may be rejected if it:
- Does not relate to a matter for which the Council has responsibility;
 - Is not within the remit of overview and scrutiny committee concerned;
 - Is defamatory, frivolous, offensive, vexatious, or otherwise improper or irrelevant;
 - Is otherwise contrary to the law or would place the Council at risk of litigation.

6. Planning and Confirming a Review

- 6.1 If, having reviewed the proposal, an overview and scrutiny committee approves a topic for provisional inclusion in its work programme, a planning exercise should be undertaken by the committee before the topic is confirmed and work on the review begins. The Scrutiny Review Plan form set out at Appendix 2 is to be used for this purpose. Planning a review is essential to minimise the risks that might prevent a review reaching its desired outcome. The planning exercise should build on the information contained within the Scrutiny Review Proposal. The form is constructed around the following seven steps: -

- Scope
There should be a clear statement about the scope of the review with a list of the matters which are in scope and will be covered by the review and a list of the matters which are out of scope and therefore will be outside the review.
- Identifying the key objectives and issues
There should be a clear articulation of what the review will seek to achieve and the issues that must be addressed to achieve the objectives. Some of this work must be carried out when the overview and scrutiny committee considers whether to include the review into its work programme.
- Key Lines of enquiry (KLOE)
Once the objectives and the key issues have been decided, KLOE should be determined to help focus the review and enable a consistent approach to a topic as the review progresses .
- Outlining stakeholders and evidence
There must be a clear picture of the evidence required to achieve the outcomes, including any witnesses or stakeholders.

- Risks

Potential risks need to be identified at the outset. These should include risks to delivery and other risks (i.e. cutting across work that is already ongoing by other committees).

- Establishing a clear timeframe

The timeframe for the beginning and end of the review will be established by the relevant overview and scrutiny committee. The planning process must determine how the review will fit into the overall timeframe that has been decided. It will be helpful to set out the dates and times of the meetings at the outset and any invitees to the meetings required at the planning stage to ensure that the availability of witnesses and stakeholders can be established as soon as possible to avoid delays to the review. If any visits are required these should also be timetabled at the outset to enable the planning of those visits to take place as early as possible.

- Membership

The review document should set out how many members are required and identify who they are, including any co-opted members. Members outside Scrutiny or officers of the Council should be classed as invitees and not co-optees to avoid any conflicts with the role of Scrutiny and other functions.

6.2 At the conclusion of the planning stage, the relevant overview and scrutiny committee will be required to review the Scrutiny Review Plan and will confirm if the review should go ahead or if the same or similar outcome could be achieved through alternative means.

7. Type of review

7.1 There are two types of scrutiny review; in-depth and spotlight. In-depth reviews involve a small review group nominated by the relevant scrutiny committee. Their aim is to produce a report for consideration by the cabinet. This type of review should include a clear timetable and should take no longer than 6 months.

7.2 A spotlight review may not produce a report for cabinet but may report its findings directly to the relevant cabinet member instead. A spotlight review could be completed in a single meeting but should take no longer than 2 months.

7.3 If a scrutiny committee approves an item for inclusion in its work programme, it shall determine which type of review is suitable in light of the proposal form and member discussion. This will form part of the planning process (see Section 3 and Appendix B).

7.4 Overview and scrutiny committees should be mindful of the resource implications of conducting reviews and should not undertake more than three reviews at any one time. These reviews shall be staggered so they are at various stages (i.e. scoping, evidence gathering and drafting recommendations) so as to balance workload. Should it appear likely that a review will exceed the timescales set out above, the matter should be reported to the relevant overview and scrutiny committee for approval.

8. The review

8.1 Collecting the information and evidence

8.2 Key issues and objectives will have been identified in the planning phase and a broad outline of the evidence required will have been suggested and included in the plan of the review. The next step is to identify the sources of the information required and the methods for collecting that information. Recommendations that will be formulated at the end of the review must be evidence based and be seen to reference the information that has been provided.

8.3 Evidence can be gathered from a variety of sources including identified best practice, current Council policy, proposed or recent Government legislation, previous or possible consultation, performance indicators, and any previous work or reviews that might be relevant.

8.4 Considering Witnesses

8.5 Witnesses have a key role to play in helping scrutiny reviews fulfil their objectives. Care needs to be taken when inviting witnesses to appear as the term can be off-putting. Informal initial approaches either face to face or by telephone may help to reassure potential witnesses, especially those outside the Council. Witnesses should be treated in a fair and constructive way. Throughout the hearing of the evidence stage, the Review objectives need to be constantly in mind and the information assessed against these. It is the responsibility of the Chairman of the Review to ensure that it remains focused and progresses in accordance with the time frame set out.

8.6 Creating a question plan

8.7 Providing a question plan for witnesses to consider prior to attendance at an overview and scrutiny committee or task and finish panel meeting will make the most of their attendance at the meeting.

8.8 Assessing the evidence and making recommendations

8.9 The review process can take several meetings. While the councillors involved should consider and scrutinise the subject throughout the review, time should also be set aside during the penultimate meeting to assess the information received to that point. When forming conclusions and recommendations, all the main points raised during the review should be considered to enable clear links to be shown between evidence and final recommendations. Officers will support Councillors in collating the evidence that has been provided and advising on the impact of the potential recommendations.

8.10 Recommendations are the purpose of the review process and should be aimed at tangible improvements in service delivery. The desired outcome of the review, outlined in the plan, should be at the forefront of Councillors' minds when forming final recommendations. When making recommendations it is important to remember that it is not just the right answer that matters but also evidence of how this conclusion was reached. Recommendations should: -

- Link to the evidence provided
- Be concise, specific and be meaningful on their own.
- Link to the scope of the review
- Include methods for monitoring the implementation of the recommendations

Recommendations need not take the form of a detailed list of actions. They should instead reflect the outcomes that the review has identified that will lead to service improvements.

8.11 Officers of appropriate seniority within the relevant service should be involved in assisting Overview and Scrutiny Committees in developing recommendations. The Council's Monitoring Officer or their nominee should also be afforded the opportunity to review recommendations at a formative stage in order to provide input as to their lawfulness etc.

8.12 Prior to any report that makes recommendations being published ahead of an Overview and Scrutiny Committee meeting, the Monitoring Officer and Chief Finance Officer must sign off the report. This is to ensure that any changes required as a result of legal or financial considerations can be considered prior to an Overview and Scrutiny Committee finalising their recommendations.

9. Reporting the outcome

9.1 Once the task and finish panel has approved its recommendations the Chair, supported by officers, will prepare a draft report. The draft report will then be considered at the final meeting of the task and finish panel. The report will then be referred to the relevant Overview and Scrutiny Committee for consideration and approval. The report will then be presented by the Chair of the relevant Overview and Scrutiny Committee and/or the Chair of the review to the appropriate body (usually Cabinet). Bite-sized reviews may have a different reporting pathway to reflect their different approach.

9.2 A template for scrutiny reports is set out at Appendix B to this document.

9.3 Cabinet or other relevant body does not have to accept all the recommendations of the review but must consider the review and recommendations and provide reasons for their decision in relation to each of the recommendations.

10. Monitoring

10.1 Where the recommendations are accepted and there is a decision for implementation monitoring arrangements need to be put in place in order that progress can be measured. An overview and scrutiny committee will monitor progress and if progress is not satisfactory, further scrutiny can be undertaken.

10.2 Follow up regarding the outcomes of the scrutiny process will be communicated in the form of an annual report from each overview and scrutiny committee. The Annual reports will be presented to full Council and will include an account of all the reviews that have been undertaken over the course of the year.

10.3 The Portfolio Holder may be asked to attend a meeting of the overview and scrutiny committee approximately six months after the Review report recommendations have been accepted by Cabinet to provide a progress report on the implementation of the recommendations. This could take the form of a report or verbal update, but there should be a clear focus on the outcome of the recommendations that were implemented and any benefits or unforeseen outcomes.

Development of Overview and Scrutiny work programmes for 2022/23

NB: The Co-ordinating Overview and Scrutiny Group considered the process to be used to develop Overview and Scrutiny work programmes at a meeting on 25 May 2022. The Group agreed that rather than go out to public consultation about suggestions for scrutiny topics as in 2021/22 it could be more useful to consider a survey of residents' views about Council services. This would enable areas to be identified where Overview and Scrutiny might help to alleviate issues. The Group also agreed that Cabinet Members should be asked to provide details of forthcoming issues within their portfolios that might be subject to pre-decision scrutiny. The chairs of the three Overview and Scrutiny committees have written to the Leader of the Council to progress these matters.
