Legal implications added by James Chadwick, Principal Lawyer.

10.0. Committee

Each application must be considered on its own merits and any conditions attached to licences and certificates must be tailored to the individual style and characteristics of the premises and events concerned. This is essential to avoid the imposition of disproportionate and overly burdensome conditions on premises where there is no need for such conditions. Standardised conditions should be avoided and indeed, may be unlawful where they cannot be shown to be necessary for the promotion of the licensing objectives in any individual case.

Subject: Police Objection - New premises licence. Reference: PL509918814

Dear Mr Byatt,

I act on behalf of the Chief Officer of Northamptonshire Police, Mr Adderley, he has delegated responsibility and has authorised me to act on his behalf with regard to representations made by Northamptonshire Police to Licensing Authorities across the county of Northamptonshire.

As you aware after our telephone conversation yesterday, I was seeking advise on how to progress this application from a police perspective. As a result of advice, I am placing an objection to your Premises Licence application due to police concerns that should a premises licence be granted, your client will not support The Licensing Objectives moving forwards. There have been 2 separate police visits made to the premises, one on the 14th April and another on the 10th May where alcohol sales were made or offered without the correct legal authorisation in place. At this stage, Northamptonshire Police do not have any confidence in your client's ability to support the Licensing Act legislation should a licence be granted. We feel that due to the evidence we have collated this matter should be taken to a Sub-Committee hearing for a decision to be made as to whether a premises licence should be granted.

Regards,

Sandy

This statement relates to a new premises licence application submitted by Armaan Restaurants Ltd to West Northamptonshire Council (Ref PL509918814) for Sarah Turkish Restaurant, 5 Alexander Terrace, Northampton, Northamptonshire, NN2 7SJ on the 23rd April, 2023 that Northamptonshire Police have made a representation against being granted. I act on behalf of the Chief Officer of Northamptonshire Police, Mr Adderley, he has delegated responsibility and has authorised me to act on his behalf with regards to representations made by Northamptonshire Police to Licensing Authorities across the county of Northamptonshire. I have objected to this application on Mr Adderley's behalf based on the grounds that we believe the premises will not support the Prevention of Crime and Disorder Licensing Objective should the licence be granted.

I am the Licensing Officer for Northamptonshire Police, a post I have held since April 2020. I am responsible for overseeing all licenced premises within the West of Northamptonshire from a police perspective. I am responsible for around 1500-2000 Licensed Premises in the county. I have 29 years policing experience.

On Wednesday 12th April, 2023 I attended the above premises in a social capacity with two friends who are also police colleagues. At the time of our visit I was unaware whether the premises had a premises licence in place, I just assumed it had. During the course of the evening I began to have doubts as to whether the premises were being responsibly managed based on our negative experience. On arrival at around 19.30hrs we were shown to our table by the window by a very friendly, non-English speaking male staff member who was wearing a track suit with a hoodie and trainers as were his male colleagues. Within a very short time frame we realised the staff clearly had no experience in the hospitality industry as the service was completely bizarre and extremely poor. I believe they may have been employed without the correct immigration rights to work in place and no official training around sales of alcohol.

I was sat with a view out onto the street, the restaurant was busy; a number of other tables were occupied and there were alcoholic drinks on the tables which were being consumed by customers who were sat down eating a meal. We were bought over food menus and a separate drinks menu. Whilst we browsed the food menu we ordered a bottle of Rose Wine at a value of £21 that was shown on the drinks and alcohol beverages menu. We waited some considerable time for our wine to be brought to the table. Whilst we waited I noticed one of the waiters leave the restaurant, I saw him cross the road and walk towards the off licence that is situated opposite the restaurant on the corner of Bective Road. I didn't think too much about it at the time and he returned a few minutes later. I saw him re-enter the restaurant with a bottle of wine in his hand and come straight over to our table with a bottle of Barefoot Pino Grigio Blush. This is a brand of wine that I am familiar with, Barefoot wines retail for between £6.50-£10 in most supermarkets and off-licences. The male explained to us that they didn't have the wine we asked for so he had gone out to an off licence and bought us this bottle instead. The wine was cold and we accepted it, as we were off duty we did not feel it appropriate to challenge him at that time.

We consumed our meal and asked for the bill. When the bill was presented it was a handwritten note of torn paper with an amount of £63 written on the note. I queried as to why we didn't receive an itemised, printed bill and the waiter initially told us he didn't understand me. I persisted and clarified what I had queried in a manner that he then understood. He told us there was a problem with the till and he couldn't print one out, he invited us to attend the counter with him and inspect the bill as it showed on the till. I did as he had suggested and walked up to the counter with him to look at the display on the till. The bill was headed with Armaan Restaurants Ltd, the food was shown as was the wine which they had charged us the £21 for that was shown on the menu. I engaged the male waiter in a brief conversation and asked him how long the restaurant had been open for, he told me 3 months. This whole experience concerned me but as we were a group of 3 females and most of the restaurant customers were male, as were the staff we decided to pay our bill and leave.

When I returned to work I checked on the West Northamptonshire Council's website to verify whether the premises were legally entitled to sell alcohol. There was no record of a premises licence in existence or of one having been applied for. I contacted the council and to confirm whether my findings were correct and they confirmed the same.

On the 23rd April, 2023 Northamptonshire Police received a Premises Licence application for the premises from their Licensing consultant, Mr Paul Byatt. I decided not to object to the application immediately. My rationale was to conduct a licensing visit to ascertain whether they were still selling alcohol unlawfully and that our experience on the night we attended wasn't just a 'rogue member of staff's actions' or 'a genuine misunderstanding of the law based on a potential language barrier'.

I then reattended the restaurant on the 10th May in the company of my police colleague, PC Bryan. We did not identify ourselves as police officers and were wearing plain clothes. We arrived at around 1.30pm, the restaurant was open and trading but there were no customers present. We were met by a female of Asian/Arabic heritage who introduced herself as the manager. The female spoke English so we enquired regarding making a booking for an imminent birthday meal and asked to look at the menu. The female handed us a food menu and a separate alcoholic drinks/beverage menu. We asked her whether the wines shown on the menu were available and the female told us they were and if there were a specific wine we liked that wasn't shown they could arrange to get our choice in for our meal. There was no mention of them not having a licence or an offer to bring our own alcohol while they waited for their licence to be granted. Myself and PC Bryan left the restaurant after being satisfied that unauthorised alcohol sales were still taking place.

On the same day I contacted Mt Byatt, the applicant's licensing consultant on the telephone and explained that I would be objecting to the application and why. Mr Byatt was extremely understanding towards police and frustrated with his client. He explained to me that he had made it completely clear to his client that they must not sell alcohol, especially whilst they waited for their licence application to be processed and that he had told them potential visits by the authorities may be conducted during the process. He apologised for his client's actions and assured me that he would get in touch with them and advise them again.

Based on my experiences with this restaurant and Mr Byatt's admission that he had made it abundantly clear to his client that they must not sell alcohol until the correct legal authority is in place does not provide Northamptonshire Police with the confidence we require in a future operator to uphold the law. I strongly believe that should a premises licence be granted the persons responsible for the licence will not trade within the confines of the Licensing Act 2003. Therefore, we have objected to this application based on our concerns that the Prevention of Crime and Disorder Licensing Objective will not be supported moving forwards and we respectfully request that the Licensing Sub-Committee supports Northamptonshire Police to send a clear message that unauthorised sales of alcohol will not be tolerated in our county.

If the Sub-Committee are minded to grant this licence we would like to opportunity to propose suitably worded, robust, fair and proportionate conditions for the premises licence's future operating schedule. G Tracey

I act on behalf of the Chief Officer of Northamptonshire Police, Mr Adderley, he has delegated responsibility and has authorised me to act on his behalf with regards to representations made by Northamptonshire Police to Licensing Authorities across the county of Northamptonshire.

I am the Licensing Officer for Northamptonshire Police, a post I have held since October 2005. I am responsible for overseeing all licenced premises within the North of Northamptonshire from a police perspective. I am responsible for around 1500-2000 Licenced Premises in the county. I have 27 years policing experience.

On the 10th May in the company of my police colleague, PC TRACEY, I attended the above mentioned premises we entered and did not identify ourselves as police officers and were wearing plain clothes. We arrived at around 1.30pm, the restaurant was open and trading but there were no customers present. We were met by a female of Asian/Arabic heritage who introduced herself as the manager. The female spoke English so we enquired regarding making a booking for an imminent birthday meal and asked to look at the menu. The female handed us a food menu and a separate alcoholic drinks/beverage menu. We asked her whether the wines shown on the menu were available and the female told us they were and if there were a specific wine or beer we liked that wasn't shown they could arrange to get our choice in for our meal. I was also told that if there was a preferred beer on the menu I wanted that they would make sure they stocked up on that particular beer. There was no mention of them not having a licence or an offer to bring our own alcohol while they waited for their licence to be granted. Myself and PC TRACEY then left the restaurant after being satisfied that unauthorised alcohol sales were still taking place.

I make this statement in support of PC TRACEY's objection.

The restaurant had a separate menu for drinks which included a selection of alcoholic drinks as well as a wine list. We chose a bottle of Rose wine from the drinks menu to order and share for our table which was priced at around £21. Around 20 minutes later, we were still waiting for our drinks and were wondering what the delay in drinks were as the restaurant wasn't particularly busy. There were other customers present, but they had all been served food and drinks before we arrived. As we were sat at a table next to a window overlooking Kingsthorpe front, I noticed another waiter come back from the shop holding a plastic bag. This waiter came straight over to our table and said, "SORRY WE DON'T HAVE THE WINE YOU ORDERED SO I HAVE BEEN TO THE SHOP AND GOT YOU THIS" and showed us a bottle of Barefoot Pinot Blush which he had just purchased from the local corner shop and presented to us from the plastic bag he was carrying. We accepted the wine, albeit, we would have been happy to order something different from the menu but we weren't given the option or told they didn't have that wine in stock and they had already gone to the trouble of purchasing the wine for us. We then ordered a meal each and consumed the food and wine. The service was extremely slow and there was no check back on the food nor did they clear the plates. It was obvious the staff were lacking training in customer service and hospitality. When we asked for the bill, the waiter brought over a piece of blank paper with a handwritten number of the total amount with no breakdown of what we ordered. When challenged about this, the waiter said the printer was broken. One of my friends then requested a full breakdown of the bill which she eventually got after some hesitation and noticed they charged us £21 for the Barefoot wine. I was unaware at the time as to whether the restaurant held a licence to sell alcohol. I assumed they did as they were serving alcohol to customers.

This statement (consisting of 1 page signed by me) is true to the best of my knowledge and belief and I make it knowing that, if it is tendered in evidence, I shall be liable to prosecution if I have wilfully stated in it anything which I know to be false, or do not believe to be true. I am PC 200 Lauren SLINN and I currently work in the Management Of Sexual Or Violent Offenders (MOSOVO) department within Northamptonshire Police based at FORCE HEADQUARTERS, WOOTTON HALL, NORTHAMPTON, NN4 0JQ. This statement relates to a new premises licence application submitted to WEST NORTHAMPTONSHIRE COUNCIL for SARAH TURKISH RESTAURANT, 5 ALEXANDRA TERRACE, NORTHAMPTON, NN2 7SJ that Northamptonshire Police have made a representation against being granted. On Wednesday 12th April 2023 at approximately 1930hrs, I attended the above premises in a social capacity with two friends who are also police colleagues. The staff in the restaurant were wearing track suits, hoodies and trainers. Within a very short time frame we realised the staff clearly had no experience in the hospitality industry as the service was very poor. There were several other tables occupied in the restaurant and there were alcoholic drinks on the tables which were being consumed by customers who were sat down eating meals. We were brought over food menus and a separate drinks menu. Whilst we browsed the food menu, we ordered a bottle of Rose Wine at a value of £21 that was shown on the drinks and alcoholic beverages menu. We waited some considerable time for our wine to be brought to the table. After quite a long wait, the waiter brought a bottle of Barefoot Pinot Grigio Blush over to our table. This is a brand of wine that I am familiar with. Barefoot wines retail for between £6.50 and £10 in most supermarkets and off-licences. The waiter explained to us that they did not have the wine we had asked for so he had gone out and bought us this bottle instead. The wine was cold and we accepted it and as we were off duty we did not feel it appropriate to challenge him at the time. We consumed our meal and asked for the bill. When the bill was presented to us, it was a handwritten note of torn paper with an amount of £63 written on the note. One of my colleagues queried why we did not receive an itemised, printed bill and the waiter said that there was a problem with the till and he could not print one out. The waiter then invited us to attend the counter with him and inspect the bill as it showed on the till. My colleague did as he suggested and walked up to the counter with him to look at the display on the till. The food was shown, as was the wine, which they had charged us the £21 for that was shown on the menu. We paid our bill and left. I am happy for my statement to be read out at the licencing hearing but will be unavailable to attend. In my absence, I give my authority to my colleague to read out my statement on my behalf.
